The name FLOW Generáció reflects a community connected through presence, creativity, and shared experience across generations. Inspired by the idea of flow as a state of timeless immersion, it represents trust in collective rhythm, movement, and the creative process. It reminds us that each individual is part of a larger shared current.

RIVER Creative Dance Academy

Within FLOW Generáció,
RIVER Creative Dance Academy
focuses on contemporary dance education. We create opportunities for technical development, improvisation and performance for amateur and semi-professional dancers across children, youth, adult, and intergenerational age groups.

Performances

Our performances engage with current social, emotional, and intercultural questions through the artistic language of contemporary dance theatre.

WHAT WE DO: RIVER

RIVER: CREATIVE DANCE EDUCATION

PROJECT HIGHLIGHT: FONÁK

Contemporary dance theatre performance

FONÁK is a contemporary dance theatre performance. The piece explores the expectations placed upon us, the search for balance, and the possibility of reconnecting with our own paths.

Inspired by symbolic motifs of ancient Hungarian mythology, contemporary movement language, and improvisational processes, the performance opens passages between inner and outer worlds through embodied presence.

COLLABORATION

Building long-term partnerships

In the future, we would like to further develop projects that bring together people from different generations, backgrounds, and communities.

Possible collaborations include:

- Erasmus+ partnerships
- artistic and educational exchange programmes
- community-based and intercultural projects
- collaborative performance creation
- youth and intergenerational initiatives
- workshops, residencies, retreats and festivals
- contemporary dance and participatory arts practices
- professional development, mentoring and training programmes

We bring experience in artistic and educational projects, contemporary dance as well as community-based practice. Moreover, we contribute through our expertise in methodologies rooted in non-formal, participatory learning.
